

Steve Kossor, assisted by joVanna Gerardi, presented four posters at the prestigious Training Institutes sponsored every-other-year by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) and Georgetown University. The posters from left to right showcased the successful treatment programs implemented by IBC staff that were studied and praised by independent researchers from the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill (2007) and Thomas Jefferson University in Philadelphia (2010), how IBC staff combine Behavioral Health Rehabilitation Services (BHRS) with the “Wraparound” process to produce highly successful behavioral health treatment programs, how Mr. Kossor’s model for “BHRS in a wraparound cup”[®] can be implemented in all 50 states through the EPSDT mandate of Medicaid to help children with ADHD, Autism and other serious behavioral disorders, and that the treatment plans used by IBC staff have been the #1 Google resource for “treatment plans for children” continuously since 2007 and have been distributed in 139 countries around the world since 2007.
